

Security Testing

Testronic Labs® – Leader in Quality Assurance

- Is your site safe against web based attacks?
- Is your customer data at risk?
- Has anyone bypassed your authentication?
- Is your brand being undermined by hackers?
- Does your site meet Payment Card Industry (PCI) Data Security Standard (DSS)?

Testronic Labs eliminates critical security vulnerabilities on web applications by thoroughly identifying, fixing and retesting vulnerabilities using a wide range of services. Working with specialist partners such as Zion Security, Testronic Labs' offering is tailored to your requirements using an innovative methodology that assesses the security level in a uniform and consistent way.

Testronic Labs helps ensure that your web applications have the required security controls to protect the confidentiality, integrity and privacy of your customer data.

Depending on your requirements you can choose from one off or regular audits.

Design & Development Phase

- Analyse site design and architecture for potential vulnerabilities and advise on risk mitigation
- Manually review and verify source code for weaknesses
- Use static code analysis tools to report vulnerabilities

Testing & Validation Phase

- Penetration testing
- Scan your web application for leaks and vulnerabilities
- Perform security tests on the application and investigate its reaction to unexpected events
- Find and eliminate risks and vulnerabilities such as: password cracking; ability to bypass authentication logging; information leakage; input and output manipulation

Monitoring & Management Phase

- Scan your web applications at regular intervals
- Target configuration errors and development flaws by executing different attacks on the infrastructure and application layer
- Propose solutions to your development team and demonstrate that vulnerabilities have been resolved through verification

Analyse & Optimise Phase

- Testronic Labs, with our partner Zion Security, is continually analysing new threats and can give on-going advice on how to optimise the security of your site

Testronic Labs, together with partner Zion Security, provides a fast efficient service to ensure your site meets its security objectives.
